Feeding

(Check out “Baby Bottles” for reviews and bottle recommendations posted on TheGoodHousewife.Com)

- 4-5 4oz Bottles with Slow Flow Nipples
- 3-4 6-8oz Bottles with Medium Flow Nipples

- Medela cylinders^
 - *I use them to measure because all baby bottles are wide and although they have measurement markings it is hard to accurately pour. I use them to measure how much breastmilk I pumped on each side and the water I use to mix my powder formula.
- Sterilizer, whether it is an actual sterilizer or new pot to boil in
- Large Bowl
 - *I have a large mixing bowl, which I use to rinse and dump all of baby's dirty dishes before or while I wash. It serves as a baby sink rather than dumping baby's dirty dishes in my regular kitchen sink.
- Dish Soap
- Bottle Brush
- Nipple Brush
- Dish Sponge
- Drying Racks
 - * I use one for bottles and the other for all other toys and small parts
- Drying Towels
- Variety of Formula Samples Just in Case
- 2-3 Plastic Feeding Bibs for Baby Solids
- Baby's Own Food Processor System
 - Baby Bullet is perfect
 - I also use Infantino Squeeze system to make my own portable and disposable squeeze packets
- 1-2 Mesh Food Feeders
- 2-4 Baby spoons and forks^
 - *I prefer rubber ones they can play with and chew on
- 2-4 Baby Serving Bowls
